

TRIP ITINERARY

Saluting New Jersey's Role in the American Revolution, Northern New Jersey Edition

As the battleground for nearly 300 major military engagements—and hundreds more skirmishes—it's no wonder New Jersey has been proclaimed the Crossroads of the American Revolution. Explore the historic sites, memorials and monuments all around the state, including at the Northern New Jersey stops featured below.

DAY 1

George Washington Bridge, Fort Lee

The Fight Comes To Fort Lee

Scout out a reconstructed war encampment at Fort Lee Historic Park, built upon the site of a significant American Revolution confrontation that took place in November 1776 between General George Washington's Continental Army and advancing British Troops.

You can pay your respects to the fallen at Monument Park. This site was originally built by the Daughters of the American Revolution and is the only park in the country dedicated to the soldiers of the American Revolution.

Lunchtime is the right time to visit Fort Lee's Main Street Shopping Corridor for eclectic dining and browsing.

DAY 2

Cannon Ball House, Springfield

Last Showdown in Springfield

The Battle of Springfield marked the American Revolution's final fight in the North, but you can still witness evidence of the combat at five landmarks...

Contact the Springfield Historical Society for a group or private tour of the aptly-named Cannon Ball House—or visit during one of its open house events.

Then be sure to hit the Colonial Church & Cemetery and Battle of Springfield Monument, the Battleground Cemetery and the Presbyterian Gateway Cemetery.

From diners and delis to pizzerias and cakeries, you can find the best eats and treats in town in the Springfield Business Improvement District.

DAY 3

Morris Museum, Morristown

Continental Might at Morristown

Make a day of it in Morristown, home to a bustling downtown, local cultural scene and key American Revolution locations.

Stroll the quaint Morristown Green with its treasure-trove of historical markers and enjoy a revolutionary lunch at 1776 by David Burke.

Visit Morristown National Historical Park to check out four must-see American Revolution attractions:

Fort Nonsense, Ford Mansion, New Jersey Brigade Area and Jockey Hollow encampment area.

If time allows, expand your mind at the Morris Museum, a Smithsonian Affiliate, with the mission of "interpreting the past, discovering the future, through art, sound, and motion."

There's Even More to See and Do

Extend your stay and add these on:

More Ways To Embrace The Past

Add historic charm to your overnight accommodations—notable options throughout the area include The Grand Summit Hotel (Summit) and The Madison Hotel (Morristown). Feeling adventurous? Allow General Washington to replace your GPS navigation and follow the Washington-Rochambeau Revolutionary Route with its eighteen strategic tracks winding their way across eight scenic Garden State counties.
